From the Vice-Chancellor's Desk

Himachal Pradesh National Law University, Shimla (HPNLU, Shimla) has, since its inception, worked towards excelling to become a research-led University. The prime objective of HPNLU, Shimla is not only to develop lawyers but professionals with dignified human qualities who serve as precious assets to the society and the nation, writ large.

HPNLU, Shimla endeavours to live up to its mission and vision by combining innovation, inspiration, and intelligence because they form the foundation of the educational system. Our University leaves no stone unturned in channelising the students' intellect towards betterment as a professional.

This is the pilot batch of the University, the batch of 2016-2021. The batch has striven with the University through different phases and has come up victorious in their overall efforts. This Batch is a group of 53 students and is the foundation of the HPNLU family. The students of this batch have been associated with various organisations spread across the country by way of internships and have also published papers in journals of repute. These students have also helped with the research projects and publications of the University.

I, on behalf of the HPNLU family, extend my warmest welcome to your esteemed organisation to come and interact with our students and assess their suitability for your organisation. In this regard, I find it trite mentioning that recruitment of any of our students is not an expenditure that the recruiter would be incurring but is in the nature of long-term investment that would be made. Lastly, I would bring this message to an end with a quote from Alfred Tennyson's Ulysses, "To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield". We, at HPNLU, keep at forefront, this quote as a guiding force.

Message from the Registrar

It gives me great pleasure to present to you the first batch students of the Himachal Pradesh National Law University, Shimla (HPNLU, Shimla). The National Law Universities are a hallmark of quality education in the legal paraphernalia and the HPNLU, Shimla adds to the existing family not only in terms of delivering quality legal education but also in terms of training the students undergo.

The university apart from its extensive and exhaustive course module and extra-curricular activities lays great emphasis on legal research and promotes the same through legal writing by the students and academicians alike. The curriculum provides multi-fold training to the students, first by educating them about the nuances of the law, second by enhancing their critical thinking capabilities to venture beyond the contemporary legal debates and find solution to issues that may arise in future, and third by promoting interdisciplinary studies, especially through research, to name a few. The pilot batch which is the batch of 2016-2021 has been rigorously trained to cater the needs of the professional legal domain while also imbibing the humane traits that go a long way in preparing the recruited, an asset for the organisation in the long-term. The university has organised debate competitions, conferences, and seminars and the students of this batch have extensively supported in the overall success of the same. They have also shown immense enthusiasm for the research publications by the university and their acumen has ameliorated the standards of the University in ways more than one.

It would not be an exaggeration to say that whereas on the one hand parting from the students of this batch would create an irreplaceable vacuum for the university, on the other hand, the recruiter would hire an asset that would, in times to come, prove to be the most beneficial return on investment. I wish the students of this batch good luck and every success in their future endeavours.
