

OBJECTIVES OF THE CONCLAVE

The impending environmental problems are not only the result of population growth but also increased technological advancements and impulse for development. The last decade has witnessed extreme environment degradation in the form of Forest fires, ocean acidification, loss of biodiversity, melting of Polar Ice Caps and a lot more. This raises serious concerns over existing facets of Environmental and Legal Jurisprudence, whether the same is sufficient to sustain Nature for generations to come?

With this objective in mind, the Centre for Environment and Disaster Management of Himachal Pradesh National Law University, Shimla, is organizing a one-day Student Conclave – the Himachal Pradesh National Law University Virtual Environment Conclave, to bring together several eminent personalities in the field of Environmental Law to give valuable insights to the young students who will put forth different perspectives and pertinent questions relating to contemporary issues in Environmental Law. The Conclave also aims to be beneficial to various academicians and other concerned individuals, by offering them diverse outlook over existing environmental issues, which shall help them contribute towards effective policy formulation and better action plans. With the aid of the Conclave and the published book, the objective is also to create awareness in the community at large towards pressing environmental concerns.
